Is there a conference app?

Yes, all registered attendees will receive information on downloading the app six weeks prior to the conference date.

What is the dress code?

Dress is business casual. Please keep in mind meeting rooms tend to be on the cool side, so plan to bring a light sweater, jacket, or dress in layers.

How do I select my workshops?

Select your workshops via the conference app. All registered attendees will receive an email with instructions for downloading the app and building your agenda 6-8 weeks prior to the conference.

How do I access workshops and information if I can't access the conference mobile app?

Contact Lori Jo Goff and she will provide you a link to the website version of the app.

How do I print or download session materials prior to the conference.

All materials may be printed. We highly recommend waiting until the week prior to the conference to ensure you have the most current materials.

Will meals be provided at the event?

Meals will be provided as part of the conference. There will be a variety of alternatives for those with allergies or special dietary needs.

Are there options for those who have food allergies and/or dietary restrictions?

There will be a variety of alternatives provided for those with allergies or special dietary needs.

Is an exhibit hall-only pass available?

No. There are two ways to participate in the conference – as an attendee or sponsor/exhibitor.

Speakers FAQs

How do I apply to speak?

Call for Proposals open in the fall each year for the following year's conference and close at the end of January.

When will I be notified if I was or was not selected as a speaker?

Speakers are selected in May each year and you will be notified whether you are selected or not.

If I'm selected to speak do I still need to register?

No, if selected to speak, we'll register you for the entire conference free of charge.
